

COASTAL & HURRICANE ONE-LINERS

by: Windell Curole

- When it comes to the transportation of goods, the might of the Midwest meet the world through South Louisiana.
- God gave us the Mississippi River, and the River gave us South Louisiana.
- We live in the United States, but we live on the re-united states.
- If the Midwest is America's bread basket, then South Louisiana is it's seafood platter.
- We speak of disaster of 9-11 as taking place on ground zero. But our land loss problem became not ground zero, but zero ground.
- The loss of South Louisiana is the greatest land loss to the United States since the succession of the southern states. The difference is that South Louisiana is physically receding...not politically succeeding.
